Pineapple Street - A deliciously funny, sharply observed novel of family, wealth, love and tennis. This zeitgeisty debut follows three women in an old Brooklyn Heights clan. Rife with the indulgent pleasures of affluent WASPS in New York and full of recognizable if fallible characters, along with a couple of appalling ones! A scintillating, wryly comic novel of race, class, wealth and privilege in an age that disdains all of it.

Reef Road - When a severed hand washes ashore in the wealthy enclave of Palm Beach, a young woman whose life seems perfect until her family goes missing and a writer lives alone with her dog and collects arcane murder statistics, collide. The Bee Sting - The Barnes family is in trouble. Instead of facing the truth that his car business is going under, Dickie spends his days in the woods, building an apocalypse-proof bunker with a renegade handy man. His wife is selling her jewelry and their teenage daughter is binge-drinking her way through finals while their son finalizes his plan to run away. Where did it all go wrong? Is there still time to find a happy ending?

Vivid and passionate, taking us deep into a world of possibility and healing.
